First Aid Film Will Be Shown

LOCAL CHAPTER OF RED CROSS TO SECURE SOUND PIC-TURE "FIRST AID"

The local chapter of Red Cross is completing plans for showing the official Red Cross sound film, "First Aid," to a number of Greencastle audiences. Simpson Stoner, county chairman of the Red Cross, states that the chapter has retrained the film from National Headquarters for the week beginning March 22, and it is hoped that hundred of Putnam county residents will have an opportunity to see it during that period.

A pre-view showing of the picture is being offered to First Aid instructors and members of First Aid classes on Sunday morning at 9 o'clock at the Voncastle Theater. A meeting for the instructors will follow the showing of the four reel movie.

On Wednesday, March 25, the film will be shown at Rotary luncheon, and at 4:30 in the afternoon of that same day it will be run for the benefit of DePauw students in the Min-shall lecture room on the DePauw campus. Employees of the Lone Star Cement Plant will be given an opportunity to see it that same date at 7:00 o'clock in the evening.

Students of both Junior and Senior High School will see the movie when it is shown at the high school building Friday, March 27, at 11:30.

The American Zinc Products Company has asked for a loan of the film during its stay in Greencastle.

Mr. Stoner asks that other groups within the county that have a suitable location for showing "First Aid," contact him concerning a possible date.

James Merryweather who has been confined to the Putnam county hospital since February 4th, due to a fractured hip, is getting along as well as can be expected.

ALLOCATION OF U. S. MANPOWER IS SEEN SOON

MEN 45 TO 64 WILL REGISTER FOR SERVICE ON 27TH OF NEXT MONTH

FOLLOW ENGLAND'S PLAN

New Draft Will Include Many Skilled Workmen Who Can Be Used By Government

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(UP)— The United States, like Great Britain, probably will have to enact legislation eventually for compulsory allocation of its manpower, labor authorities said today.

The question was raised by the presidential order for registration under the Selective Service Act on April 27 of 13,000,000 men between 45 and 64 years of age, inclusive.
These men are too old for military service but an occupational survey of them will uncover "hundreds of thousands of hidden skills needed in war industries," labor officials said.

Many of the men who will register next month will be the fathers, even the grandfathers, of men whose order numbers were determined in the last three lotteries.

President Roosevelt, who was 60 on his last birthday, is within the age group but will not register because he is commander-in-chief of the armed forces. High government officials who will register include Vice President Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard, Attorney General Francis Biddle, Postmaster General Frank C. Walker, WPB Director Donald Nelson, Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt, and Price Administrator Leon Henderson. All members of the Supreme Court will be registered except Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone and Associate Justice Owen J. Roberts. Justice William O. Douglas registered last time.

President Roosevelt's new registration order did not include 18 and 19 year olds who, although included under the Selective Service Law, are not liable for military service.

Selective Service officials gave two possible explanations why the younger group was not ordered to register:

1. That Mr. Roosevelt may plan to "catch" these men as they turn 20 in registrations to be held every January while the war lasts. The youngest men now eligible for the draft are those who were 20 on or before last Dec. 31.

2. That the younger group which totals about 2,500,000 may be registered later in the year after the older men have been listed and sent occupational questionnaires. This plan appeared most probable.

Officials emphasized that occupational questionnaires, which are being sent to all Selective Service registrants, who will total approximately 45,000,000 after April 27, must not

CLERICAL CLOTH USED TO OBTAIN AUTO TIRES

INDIANAPOLIS, March 20 (UP)—

A sudden increase in Hoosier ministers, with no visible congregations to support them, has resulted in an investigation of persons using the clerical cloth as a cover to obtain preferential rating for automobile tires, James D. Strickland, state rationing administrator, reported today.

Strickland said that several cases had been discovered where persons hung signs before old and unused buildings designating them as places of worship, and then applied for the tire rating granted ministers by the Office of Price Administration.

In a letter to OPA, Strickland requested that the ministerial regulation be applied to determine whether persons calling themselves ministers must be ordained ministers or a graduate of a theological school or Bible seminary.

Assumes Command Of Chinese Troops

AMERICAN TO DIRECT ACTIV-ITIES OF 5TH AND 6TH
CHINESE ARMIES

CHUNGKING, China, March 20.— (UP)—Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, assuming command of the Chinese 5th and 6th armies on the Burma front was expected today to take up his stand beside British, Indian and Burmese troops for a battle against the Japanese which will bring into action everything from tanks to elephants.

The arrival at the front of the 59-year-old American army officer, recently named chief of staff of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek of China, was believed here to mean an immediate widening of the war theater on the Burma front.

His troops and those of the British empire will make their stand under the protection of planes of the British and American volunteer group air forces.

Under heavy Japanese pressure, British imperial forces were reported to be withdrawing toward Mandalay where they were expected to make their strongest stand, with Chinese troops defending the Shan states area.

In central Burma where the battle was expected, the allied forces would be able to use to good effect their strong armored equipment.

Defense Of Far Southwest Pacific Continent Rushed Under Direction Of MacArthur

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEAD-QUARTERS, Australia, March 20.— (UP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today that he had come here to organize an American offensive against Japan and a primary purpose was to relieve the Philippines.

In a brief statement, every phrase of which was a fighting one, the hero of Bataan peninsula said:

"The President of the United States ordered me to break through the Japanese lines and proceed from Corregidor to Australia for the purpose, as I understand it, of organizing an American offensive against Japan.

"A primary purpose of this is the relief of the Philippines.

"I came through and I shall return."

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S
HEADQUARTERS, Australia, March 20.—(UP)—Aerial warfare intensified in speed and fury along the northeastern fringe of Australia today as a Japanese invasion force drove on toward Port Moresby, New Guinea, behind Nazi-trained native guerrillas.

It was reported that Gen. Douglas MacArthur, after a rest in a quiet country town, was on his way to his headquarters here to assume active direction of the United Nations army, air and naval forces and to prepare his plans to meet a direct Japanese attempt to invade the continent.

United States and Australian planes ranged wide over the New Guinea, Bismarck Island and north coast areas hunting for Japanese invasion fleets, and eager to increase a bag of Japanese ships which now totaled up to 30 enemy craft, including 13 warships, sunk or damaged in less than two weeks.

United States, Australian and other Allied ground forces awaited confidently what more and more Australians believed would be an early test of the country's defenses against Japanese invasion thrusts, to which the increasingly savage Japanese aerial attacks on such areas as Port Moresby, the north coast base of Darwin and the island-dotted Torres Strait appeared to be preludes.

Though Gen. MacArthur's movements as the supreme Allied commander in chief in the southwest Pacific were a military secret, he was expected to arrive here by the week-end to take active command of the expanding fighting forces gathering to check the Japanese expansionist move.

Australian army ministry Francis M. Forde left Canberra, the capital, expecting to hold his first conference with MacArthur at headquarters here.

Urgent Allied preparation to meet a Japanese attack gained momentum steadily under the driving energy of United States army and civilian officials.

There was no feeling of over-optimism and no disposition to depreciate the power or determination of the Japanese attack on the Australian defense zone.

But knowledge of the great successes of the Allied air force in-

DePauw Chapel

Mrs. A. R. Standing, for thirty-three years a missionary in what is now occupied China, spoke at DePauw chapel Thursday. Mrs. Standing spent over four years under Japanese control of the Soochow district in China.

Mrs. Standing has been back in the United States for a year during which time she has lived in Greencastle. She made it clear that she had not experienced a bombing. When she left Soochow the Japanese had not yet arrived, and she entered Shanghai after the invaders had left. She told her audience of the many fine things the Nationalist Government of China had accomplished before the Japanese war. Under the democratic government, roads had been built, a national language with fewer characters had been introduced, education was being promoted, natural resources were being developed and the use of narcotics was being slowly stamped out.

All these constructive things were spoiled by the Japanese. Under the rule of the invader there is no personal freedom. People entering Shanghai have their possessions thoroughly examined and sometimes confiscated. Women who refuse to lift their hats to Japanese soldiers were slapped. The only form of currency accepted in public life was the military yen, which was highly inflated. Soap, a necessity to the cleanly Chinese, was almost impossible to get. The Japanese encouraged the use of drugs and narcotics.

She told of the destruction and degradation of conquered Shanghai. Refugees poured into the city by the hundreds of thousands and lived huddled in doorways or under stairways. Mrs. Standing told of the life in occupied China and concluded her speech saying, "If you have ever lived in a country where there is no freedom, you will know that freedom is worth fighting for."

HIGH SCHOOL CONVOCATION

The fifth grade pupils of the Martha Ridpath school entertained the high school at convocation on Tuesday with a two-act musical playlet entitled "And The Stars Heard." The story concerns a young English refugee, Peter Hale, who is welcomed by his American classmates and who learns through his association with them that, in spite of the miles between countries, there is no difference in nationalities at all, that people are alike everywhere and that through song and the lives and writings of great leaders the national spirit can be quickened and purified. The following pupils took part: Bruce Wilde, Joanne Foley, Lynnwood Thompson, Donald Flint, Kenneth Torr, Charles Hale, Leola Tilley, Patty Godfrey, Steve Deer, Gladys Prichard, Dale Pitts, and a chorus of fifth grade pupils. Both these youthful actors and

CYCLES IN THE LIVES OF AMERICAN PEOPLE

The first great lure to the new world was the beaver. A bitter Seven Years War was fought over the fur trade before the United States was conceived. We called it the French and Indian War. The first great industry in North America was the extermination of the beaver. Traders with the aid of large Indian canoe caravans loaded these pelts on ships at Three Rivers and Quebec. In two hundred years or by the beginning of the nineteenth century the beaver was almost exterminated. Four years ago the Department of Interior realizing the value of the beaver other than for pelts turned loose five hundred in the eroded areas of Idaho to dam the streams and catch the silt and hold back the water. Thousands of arid Idaho acres have already been reclaimed in this manner and more beavers are being trapped and put to work. It costs about eight dollars to trap and transplant a beaver and the estimated value of its work is three hundred dollars. The value of these beavers is not in their pelts but in their teeth. Thus these creatures whose extermination was our first great industry are now being put to work to save us from the results of our abuse of the land.

"PROFIT FROM PASTURE INTEREST WIDESPREAD"

Just as in the case of the beaver where time made people realize that in destroying something that nature provided for a purpose, they were heaping abuse on their land. So are people realizing that with the plow they have also heaped abuse on their land. Great interest is becoming apparent in getting land back to grass that never should have been plowed and make a profit the livestock way. As far away as California there comes inquiry regarding the "Profit From Pasture" program sponsored by the Central National Bank.

"OLD PASTURE OFTEN RESPONDS TO LIME AND FERTILIZER"

Poor, worn out pastures may only need plant food to restore an abundance of growth especially if there is still a good sod. Phosphorus is usually the limiting factor in pasture growths, especially the legumes. If the legumes don't grow well for lack of phosphorus then the other grasses become thinner as they are dependent upon the legumes for their nitrogen. Superphosphate is the first fertilizer to use, and the one most likely to pay through the stimulation of both grasses and legumes. Application of 300 to 500 pounds per acre is recommended and will last from 3 to 5 years. Commercial nitrogen applied at the rate of 150 to 200 pounds per acre as soon as growth starts in the spring will advance grazing several days. Apply when pasture is dry. If soil is sour an application of one ton per acre of ground limestone will usually be sufficient. This should be applied several months before the application of superphosphate.

Final Forum Session Held

The final meeting of DePauw's Forum for the Discussion of the Peace Settlement which is to follow World War II was held Thursday night in East College. This was the last in the series of six meetings at which various phases of the war and peace were discussed.

A group of six representative speakers made short observations on their own ideas of the most necessary element to be included in the peace settlement. The group included Dr. W. W. Carson, head of the department of history; Professor H. C. Heston, department of psychology; Robert Crouch, Sam Hanna, Miss Barbara Jane Smith, and Allan Vestal, a junior student.

In the course of the forum series, the peace was discussed in the light of the social, political, economic, and ethical. The speakers who led the discussions on these phases were Professors George B. Manhart, Hiram Jome, Vernon VanDyke, Fred Ritchie, and L. R. Eckardt.

The Forum was inaugurated by DePauw University in order to acquaint DePauw students and Greencastle citizens with some pertinent facts concerning the war and the peace to follow. At each meeting there was open discussion and debate. The meetings were held on consecutive Thursdays and lasted an hour.

Approximately twenty minutes was given to the speaker of the evening who brought out facts and directed the discussion which followed for the remaining part of the program. Attendance at the Forum meetings was consistently good.

AWAIT INFORMATION ON ACCESS HIGHWAYS

The State Highway Commission is seeking agreement with military and federal engineering authorities regarding access road requirements in Indiana's two recently designed defense areas—the Wabash Valley Ordnance Plant and Camp Atterbury—it was reported today by S. C. Hadden, chairman.

Several surveys have been made of possible routes in the vicinity of the ordnance plant in Vermillion county and of roads in Johnson and Bartholomew counties where the new camp is under construction but there has been no final designation of the routes which are to serve either area.

In the meantime the Highway Commission is rushing plans for completion of the dual lane section of Road 31 south from near Greencastle to connect with the new bypass north of Columbus and has work in progress on the improvement of a bridge on Road 63 over the Wabash River at Clinton, which will carry traffic in and out of the ordnance plant area.

Voncastles

Unfolding a story permeated with suspense and excitement, "Joe Smith, American," opens tonight at the Voncastles Theatre, with Robert Young and Marsha Hunt scoring as a typical young American married couple.

The theme was conceived for a magazine story by Paul Gallico, well-known newspaper man, who wrote of events that are common in the headlines of the day. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer produced the film, with Young in the title role.

The quiet restraint of Young's technique, hailed in his recent title role characterization in "H. M. Pulham, sq." is again effective here.

WHAT DOES CP MEAN?

... The finest in GAS cooking guaranteed to you by

Certified Performance

Cuts your cooking costs and protects your family's health

There is no mystery, no secret code in the CP insignia that makes certain GAS Ranges stand out from the crowd. It simply means that the American Gas Association decided upon a series of 22 super performance tests for GAS Ranges... tests that, when successfully passed, would give those ranges a CP seal of Certified Performance that no other GAS Range could equal. That is why housewives look first for the CP seal, and that is why CP GAS Ranges have never failed to live up to their reputation. For instance, these are some of the qualities that are found in CP ranges—SPEED (instantaneous high heat); FLEXIBILITY (from high to simmer instantly); HEALTH-PRO-TECTION (food flavors and values fully retained); DEPENDABILITY (always the same quality cooking); ECONOMY (consistently low operating cost). See us today for further details and ask about our convenient payment plan.
